Social Justice and Unjust Systems: Strategies to Advance Structural Change

As forensic social workers, we are uniquely positioned to advance structural change for sustained social justice, by:

- Holistically understanding clients’ intersectionality to provide more inclusive and equitable services.
- Articulating justice/equity as a stated goal and including clients and stakeholders in identifying the root causes and developing solutions.
- Training administrators and staff to achieve social justice and equity.
- Disaggregating data and reporting outcomes with context.
- Considering intended and unintended impacts of programming, practices, and policies such that burdens and benefits are experienced equitably.
- Developing theories of structural/systems change to avoid only project-based results and instead support longer-term transformation and justice.

We invite you to partner with NOFSW to better understand systems and to gain the knowledge, skills, and strategies to advance structural change at all levels of practice. Join us in New Orleans for our 39th annual conference to become an advocate and architect of forensic social work and justice!

Conference Goals: Upon completion of this activity, participants should be able to:

- identify forensic standards
- maintain forensic best practices
- utilize quality materials for interdisciplinary forensic education and practice
- advocate for court-involved children, youth, adults, and families

Target Audience: Workshops have been designed for social work professionals who seek to advance social justice through the interprofessional collaboration of human service and legal systems.

At this conference we strive to be:

Inclusive and expansive – recognizing the value of individual and professional diversity and harnessing the power of a “full spectrum” approach to civil/family and criminal law perspectives that are solidly based in holistic social work principles and values.

Proactive – identifying and anticipating research and practice trends while promoting state-of-the-art intervention on micro (clinical) through macro (management, social change) levels. Being on the forefront of our field means embracing educational/learning opportunities that promote our own professional growth and development so that we can stand strong in supporting the social determinants of health and well-being.

Collaborative – creating new pathways toward working synergistically with our communities and colleagues; building bridges that are cutting edge, foster service integration and that place the children, families and communities we serve at the center of ethical and effective forensic practices, policies and procedures.

General Information:

- Nametags are required to be worn throughout the conference.

- Cell Phones: As a courtesy to conference participants, please refrain from the use of cell phones and beepers during sessions.

- Conference evaluation forms are provided online. Please download and print evaluations for the sessions you plan to attend. You can drop these evaluation forms in any of the evaluation collection boxes located in workshop rooms and at the registration table. We thank you in advance for taking the time to complete these forms. The information you provide will be used to plan for future conferences.

- Handouts: Most handouts will be available online to conference participants. Many instructors will provide handouts at their session.

- Dining: There are many lunch options available within or near the hotel. You can find restaurants, lounges, and casual eateries to suit your palate. Please see guest services for restaurant choices.

- Parking: Daily rate is $35 + tax. Valet parking service is available for hotel guests for $48 + tax.

Plenary Sessions

Tuesday Opening Plenary: Women’s Reentry and Healing Through Storytelling
This plenary will introduce how storytelling can be the vehicle for client change and a deeper understanding of the client choice. Becoming more conscious of ways of thinking and beliefs that influence choice-making is a crucial tool to effectively serving those most in need especially those impacted by the criminal justice system. Ashley McSwain, MSW, MSOD; Charnal Cheney

Wednesday Keynote Session: After Tragedies, Strategies: A Conversation About Community Engagement – One Officer’s Story
On May 25, 2020 George Floyd was killed, and for many people, hope for a just society died that day too. This tragedy prompted many of us to ask ourselves - and each other - some pretty hard questions, and challenge our institutions, like the police. So, imagine being a Black woman wearing blue and grappling with these same tensions, but in an up close and very personal way. Officer Shakita Warren, a member of the National Organization of Black Law Enforcement Executives (NOBLE) shares her story of hope in a conversation with NOFSW President, Dr. Stacey D. Hardy-Chandler.

Thursday Keynote Session: Stories of Redemption: Social Justice for those Serving Life Without the Possibility of Parole
This presentation reveals stories of redemption shared by former lifers, providing evidence of the power of second chances for not only formerly incarcerated lifers, but also for their communities. Sandra Joy, Ph.D., LCSW; Gary Tyler

2022 Sol Gothard Award (presentation Wednesday, June 15)

2022 Sol Gothard Award Recipient / In Memoriam of Dr. Robert P. Butters We were saddened to learn our dear friend and colleague, Rob Butters, age 51, passed away suddenly on December 13, 2021, as the result of a heart attack. Rob served on NOFSW’s Executive Council from 2008 to 2015, including as Treasurer. He was also the Co-founding Editor of our Journal of Forensic Social Work. As a former Assistant Professor at the University of Utah, College of Social Work he chaired the forensic social work concentration and was the Director of the university’s Utah Criminal Justice Center from 2011-2018. Rob’s commitment to forensic social work was unwavering. His dedication to the field was only surpassed by his love for his four children.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

The 2022 Annual Conference of the National Organization of Forensic Social Workers is co-sponsored by the NOFSW and The Institute for Continuing Education. The program offers a total of 13.00 contact hours as listed. Continuing education credit is awarded on a session-by-session basis with full attendance required for each session attended. Partial session credit is not offered. The CE processing fee is $40.00 per person and may be paid with registration or on-site. Conference attendees who wish to receive continuing education credit MUST check in at the continuing education desk to make formal application and receive CE materials for completion. Staff at the CE desk will have a listing of attendees who pre-paid the CE processing fee.

Course Completion: To qualify to receive continuing education credit, attendees must complete all CE materials, sign in/out daily at designated locations, and complete an evaluation of the sessions attended. CE verification is mailed to attendees following the Conference and should be received within 3-4 weeks of the Conference.

Questions: If you have questions regarding continuing education, the program, faculty, or for a listing of learning objectives by session, speaker bios, please contact The Institute at: 800-557-1950; e-mail: instconted@aol.com.

Learning Objectives: For a listing of learning objectives by session, contact The Institute at: instconted@aol.com

Commercial Support: The Institute for Continuing Education receives no funds from any commercial organization for financial support of its activities in providing continuing education sponsorship of the Conference. The Institute’s sponsorship of this Conference does not imply endorsement of featured exhibits.

Note: It is the responsibility of attendees to determine if continuing education credit offered by The Institute for Continuing Education meets the regulations of their licensing/certification board.

Continuing Education Offered:

Psychology: The Institute for Continuing Education is approved by the American Psychological Association (APA) to sponsor continuing education for psychologists. The Institute for Continuing Education maintains responsibility for this program and its content. Psychologists are urged to review the description of scheduled sessions for appropriateness for professional and personal continuing education development.

Social Work: Application for social work continuing education credits has been submitted. This website will be updated regarding accreditation approval.

New York: The Institute for Continuing Education is recognized by the New York State Education Department’s State Board for Social Work as an approved provider of continuing education for licensed social workers. Provider No. SW-0025.

Skill Level: Some sessions have been rated for skill level (beginning, intermediate, advanced). Participants are urged to review session description for appropriateness for professional and personal development.

People all over the world are confronted daily by issues such as poverty, a lack of access to quality education, unaffordable and or inadequate housing, and a lack of needed health and mental services. These issues are dynamic and varied, and social workers need to have access to relevant and timely evidence-based materials to meet the needs of those facing them. The Social Workers’ Desk Reference is a comprehensive resource for practicing social workers.

This essential reference is extraordinarily comprehensive and provides updated information in 15 parts covering the profession and its overarching themes; values, ethics, licensure; theoretical constructs; assessment; treatment plans; techniques; individual, family, and group interventions; evidence-based practice; case management; community practice; vulnerable populations; behavioral and mental health; school social work; military social work; and forensic social work. All 163 chapters, written by experts in the field, are focused, practical, and contain critical content in addition to websites and updated references.

New to this Edition:

- Expanded sections on current hot topics such as white nationalism, gaming disorder, substance abuse, LGBTQ+ populations, suicide, sexual violence in the military
- Greatly expanded section on vulnerable populations to address the wide variety of diversity in the U.S.

Lisa Rapp-McCall, MSW, Ph.D, Professor, Graduate Social Work Program, and Research Associate, Maribeth Durst Applied Research Institute at Saint Leo University. Lisa served as an associate editor on the third edition of the Social Worker’s Desk Reference.

Kevin Corcoran, JD, PhD, MSW, Professor, University of Alabama School of Social Work. Kevin was the Editor-in-Chief for the third edition of Social Worker’s Desk Reference, has been an editor of multiple journals, and has organized several large-scale publishing projects including six editions of the Measures of Clinical Practice volumes.

Al Roberts was Professor of Social Work and Criminal Justice, Rutgers University and the editor of the first and second editions of the Social Workers’ Desk Reference.
